

International Society for Intellectual History has been a forum connecting Intellectual Historians since 1993. In the past the ISIH incorporated news of our member's publications in its journal, Intellectual News. To serve a similar function, the ISIH is now expanding its website to include a new announcement section. Our intention is to develop a site collecting information on: undergraduate and postgraduate courses in the field; scholarships and other funding opportunities; essay and monograph prizes; major research resources; seminar series, workshops, conferences, and exhibitions; and major collaborative research projects.

To submit an item to be included on the International Society for Intellectual History's Announcements list, please complete the following details and return the form to the Announcements Editor: Julie Davies at daviesja@unimelb.edu.au.

Contributor's details

Your name:

Your institution:

Your contact email:

Submission details

Announcement type:

Institution:

Department:

Announcement title:

Website:

Announcement text (limited to 1500 characters):

Is the announcement for an ongoing project? Yes No

If the announcement is not ongoing, please provide start/end dates in the form: 7 May 2013 (These details can be updated at a later time if the project duration changes.)

Start Date:

End date:

Further Information contact details (if different from contributor above)

Name:

Email:

Phone:

Address: